Market leader upper intermediate myenglishlab answers

Market Leader 3rd Edition Extra is a five-level English course for students who want to learn English and learn more about business, and for business people who want to advance their careers. It was developed in association with the Financial Times, one of the leading sources of commercial information in the world. The Financial Times material introduces students to current business issues and strengthens the professional language and communication skills required for the modern business world. Language: British English Five Levels: Contemporary Material with Financial Times Content in Each CEFR Unit. A1-C2 Suitable for: Young Adults and Adult Professionals Looking for Free Course Resources? Financial Times articles and hands-on exercises help students develop English for business. Topics such as buying and selling, mergers and acquisitions, human skills, marketing and human resources expose students to the practicalities of business. Consultant case studies help students learn general business practices while improving their English. The English that students learn is practical both to work in business and to continue their studies at the university level. The Financial Times' interviews, case studies and content bring the real world of business into the classroom and motivate students interested in business. Extra builds on market leader 3rd Edition by providing new business skills lessons that offer the learner a task-based approach, integrated skills for developing core business skills such as presentations, negotiations, meetings and small conferences. The 3rd edition's leading Flexi Market Editions are excellent for intensive courses: they combine half of a course book and half of the equivalent practice file. With the content of the course covered in a shorter period (40-60 hours of contact time), they are ideal for summer classes or other intensive packages. Use Market Leader to prepare your students for the Cambridge Business English Certificate (BEC). Market Leader provides dedicated support to BEC's reading and writing elements for the first two levels, BEC Vantage (B2) and BEC Higher (C1). Contact your local sales representative.
